

SAUNTERINGS

From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS.

SUNDAY is Armistice Day. Sixteen eventful years have passed since the first hysterical celebration of this unforgettable event in 1918. Men and women wept with joy at the thought of peace once again reigning over a bloodthirsty world. The youthful soldiers of every nation were eager to cease the legalized job of slaughtering fellow humans—a duty forced upon them under the guise of patriotism. As the last echo of gunfire mingled with the agonized shrieks of wounded men faded over the hell-swept regions of "No Man's Land"—it must have seemed that Christ had once again come into possession of human hearts.

For the boys who returned, and were able, in some manner, to take their places in normal life, . . . the horrifying experiences of war must always remain a nightmare of haunting memories. Beside their less fortunate comrades, . . . those whose life's blood stains the fields of France . . . and the pathetic victims still suffering the damnable tortures of gas poisoned lungs . . . the shell shocked, and shrapnel-mangled wrecks now confined in government hospitals—these men are very fortunate, indeed.

DUE to Armistice Day occurring on Sunday this year, actual celebration will be held Monday in most places. As a respectful and grateful nation pauses in silent tribute to our soldier dead, it would be wise to include a prayer that the flower of American youth shall never again be sacrificed upon a foreign battlefield. Our country must rightfully possess full and adequate defense, and every loyal American will gladly lay down his life in protection of his own flag and country. . . . At home.

Costly experience has proven interference in age-old European hatreds is to be avoided by our country. Let Europe slash at each other's throat if they must. If our heartless, money-greedy munition makers begin howling for this country to jump into the fray—pack 'em in a cage and ship 'em across the water, then sit back and watch the hullabaloo in the news reels, or listen to a shot-by-shot description of battles by the radio announcer.

European wars are much like dog fights—the more dogs pile in, the longer the fight lasts.

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR—ALWAYS IN ADVANCE.

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1934.

VOL. 43 — No. 45

PEOPLE OF BAY ST. LOUIS TO VOTE GAS FRANCHISE AT DATE TO BE NAMED

A. B. Knott Et Als From Louisiana and City of Bay St. Louis Sign Ordinances Granting Franchise for Period Of Twenty-Five Years—Long Looked-For Improvement For City at Hand

The Echo's efforts for gas for domestic and industrial purposes for Bay St. Louis have not been in vain and it is more than probable our people will be using gas in their homes and places of business no later than July 1.

At a meeting of the Board of Mayor and City Commissioners of City of Bay St. Louis, held November 5, an ordinance to that end in view was introduced in form and manner as prescribed by law. The ordinance would grant R. B. Knott et als a franchise to lay, maintain and repair mains and pipe lines for the transportation and distribution of natural gas for a period of twenty-five years, as per statute.

This ordinance was mutually agreed and signed both by the mayor and council commission and R. B. Knott et als; to lay on filed for at least two weeks for public inspection; to be finally passed and adopted by the Commission Council at their second regular meeting of November 19, 1934.

This ordinance thereafter to be published for three full weeks, or to receive four publications, as by law provided.

The Board at its regular meeting, November 19th will set date of special election for the qualified electorate to either ratify or reject its action.

Thirty days after November 5th, the grantees, R. B. Knott et als, are to begin and prosecute without delay the completion of a survey, to determine the advisability of establishing and maintaining a gas system in Bay St. Louis.

After the completion and filing of this survey the grantees shall complete the system of work, pursuant to the said survey within six months after the beginning of the actual construction of the gas system.

The ordinance or franchise also provides there shall be no charge for meter reading and meter servicing as elsewhere. The rates are less than that charged for other coast cities now being serviced by other interests.

R. B. Knott is state senator in Louisiana, residing at Ruston, La., a man of extensive connections and a developer well known and in an interview with The Echo he says according to present plans there is no doubt his company will be able to supply gas by July 1st. He says there will be a minimum charge of $2.00 for 2000 feet and the schedule is correspondingly low.

Senator Knott has visited Bay St. Louis several times in the past few weeks in the interest of procuring such franchise he is now about to receive. His attention was first called to the fact Bay St. Louis was ready for gas by an article appearing in the columns of The Sea Coast Echo a few weeks back, this paper sponsoring such a move. It is interesting to note the Mayor and Council Commissioners are co-operating fully and yet with every safeguard to the people, that is, as to rates, etc.

The matter now seems only a question of time before its final accomplishment.

Pascagoula Football Squad To Be In Person At Uncle Charlie's

An event of this Saturday night's program on entertainment at Uncle Charlie's well-known Nite Club, will be the personal appearance of the Pascagoula Football Squad, known as the Panthers, here to play Stanislaus. The young gentlemen and accompanying friends will spend the evening with Uncle Charlie's guests and the event is eagerly anticipated. Louis Carron's ten-piece orchestra will be in attendance, as usual, and a more pleasant and generally delightful evening could not be imagined nor anticipated. The Panthers will prove a drawing card.

Monday to be Holiday In Bay St. Louis On Account Armistice Day

Due to the fact Armistice Day falls on a Sunday this year, the City of Bay St. Louis has caused a proclamation to be issued, declaring Monday, November 12, the day of formal celebration and also that the day be a holiday. Accordingly, both banks of Bay St. Louis and other business houses will observe the day and patrons and others will govern themselves accordingly.

PLAY FOR CAUSE OF EDUCATION

Three-Act Play to Be Presented November 23—Auspices S. J. A. Parents Club

A cast of local talent is preparing to rehearse the 3-act rural comedy, "Look Out, Lizzie," to be presented at the Convent Gym on the evening of Friday, November 23, under auspices of St. Joseph's Parents' Club and to raise funds for both convent and academy financial needs.

A play of this kind is something new. Three full acts with story and action runs through, with many amusing and mirth-provoking situations. The play will be professionally directed and from the personnel of the cast, The Echo is fully convinced the entertainment will well be worthy of attending.

The public demands something new and after due deliberation it was finally resolved that a regular play, with well balanced cast would meet with public favor and result in the success so earnestly desired.

Posters, announcing the cast, and other information are in press as well as tickets of admission and will soon be ready for distribution. The committee asks: Remember Friday, November 23.

The Rotary Club of Bay City Has Contest On For Attendance

An attendance contest for the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club was inaugurated beginning Tuesday evening meeting of this week, suggested by President Arthur A. Scalfide, with John J. McDonald captain of one side and C. M. Weeks captain of the other. The club is divided into two sections of even numbers. This attendance contest will prevail for four weeks. The losing side will pay all costs for an entertainment to follow.

Save for one member, there was a full attendance this week and the winning side for this week is in high glee of their hundred per cent attendance. The program speaker Tuesday night was C. G. Moreau on the high spots of a recent trip East. Another speaker will fill next Tuesday's program.

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

Proclaiming Monday, Nov. 12, a Holiday

SINCE ARMISTICE DAY, Nov. 11 falls on a Sunday this year, and it being the desire of the business community through a feeling of nobility of patriotism to observe the day in a different way than on Sunday; wishing that a day aside from Sunday be especially set for the observance of Armistice Day, in order to show proper observance and respect and to pay tribute to the memory of that myriad of millions of souls that have gone before and with their lives paid the supreme sacrifice on the altar of their country,

And since Armistice Day is a legal holiday and it is fitting that a special day be set aside for proper observance.

Therefore, I, G. Y. Blaize, mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis, do issue this as the City's official proclamation declaring MONDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1934, a holiday; and, further, officially requesting that all places of business be closed on that day from 12 noon to 6 o'clock, or, all day, in order the public engaged in business and others employed may pay proper and fitting tribute.

Done at the City Hall this 8th day of November, A. D. 1934, and witnessed by the city's official seal.

G. Y. BLAIZE, Mayor.
Attest:
H. GRADY PERKINS, Commissioners.

PASCAGOULA ELEVEN TO INVADE BAY CITY THIS SATURDAY NOON

Panthers to Battle With the Rockachaws—Coach Glover Confident Of Success

Despite the setback handed the St. Stanislaus Rockachaws by the Commy High Steenogs last Sunday, Coach Glover's charges are prepping more intensively for the invasion of the Pascagoula Panthers here Saturday afternoon.

Saturday's battle will decide the championship of the Gulf coast regional, giving the winner the right to represent the coast in the state play-off. Last year Pascagoula carried the Coast away in a walk only to lose the state title to Kosciusko 19 to 7.

The scores made by the 1934 Panther machine have been most impressive with the exception of the tie score of 1313 with Picayune, Pascagoula has averaged four touchdowns on every team played. The opposition has been held to one score, most of the time this being scored in the periods held by the subs.

Stanislaus has had a lot of hard luck with injuries this season, but aside from that, the ragged playing in the last two games against New Orleans prep teams has slowed the team up considerably.

Coach Glover has been busy this week ironing out these defects to overcome the threat carried by Pascagoula. The whole team reported Monday in good physical condition ready to get into training for the biggest game on the Stanislaus schedule this season.

BAY CITY SCOUTS TURN OUT

Attend Church Sunday and Parade Streets of City Monday—Drive Follows

In observance of Hostess Day of the National Girl Scout Week, the Scouts of Bay St. Louis gave a Hallowe'en Party for Boy Scout Troop 208 and 217, on Wednesday, October 31.

On Sunday morning November 4, the Protestant girls of Troop 1 attended the Methodist Sunday School in uniform and heard a splendid talk on "Growth," by Mr. Alexander Allison. Girls of the Catholic faith attended their own church in uniform.

On Monday, November 5, the girls participated in the Boy Scout parade which was a part of the Boy Scout Drive for funds.

The Girl Scouts were first organized in America by Juliette Low in March, 1912. The first patrol was formed by eight girls who met in an old loft in Savannah, Ga. They called themselves the Girl Guides but as that name did not mean much to the girls they changed it to the Girl Scouts the next year. Now 22 years later, the Girl Scouts are an international organization with many hundreds of members all over the world. In March, 1931, Miss Helen Vaughn organized our local troop with the help of Mrs. J. B. Goldman, who took the troop in hand early the following summer. The troop is sponsored by the Parent Teacher Association of the Bay High School.

As we observe National Girl Scout Week we try to realize the importance of the little club founded by Juliette Low and its growth into the huge international organization which we know today. Also, this week we attempt to see the higher meaning of Scouting and try harder to live up to its ideals.

EDITH JACOBS,
Troop Scribe.

COUPLE MARRIED IN BAY ST. LOUIS FIFTY YEARS AGO CELEBRATE

Golden Anniversary at Pass Christian — Mr. and Mrs. John T. McDonald, the Happy Couple

A recent celebration of a fiftieth wedding anniversary at Pass Christian last week is of direct interest to Bay St. Louis since the bride of half century ago is a native and was married at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, this city, Rev. Father Henry LeDuc officiating. The couple are Mr. and Mrs. John T. McDonald, Mrs. McDonald before her marriage Miss Julia Taconi, whose brothers, Frank, Charles P., James and August Taconi reside here.

The event is chronicled by the Pass Christian home paper The Tarpon Beacon and it is but appropriate to use the article from that press, which follows:

Not to many couples is allotted the blessed privilege of Providence to enjoy the occurrence of the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day, and upon the coming to pass of such events it is appropriate to celebrate the completion of half a century of wedded life as their individual wishes direct.

On such an occasion in the life of Captain and Mrs. John T. McDonald of Pass Christian, it was their wish to celebrate the event with a High Mass in St. Paul's Catholic church, in this city, as they have been life long and devout members of that creed, on last Monday morning, October 29, 1934. In attendance at the Mass there were a large number of relatives and friends, among whom was the writer of this article who was one of the now living attendants at the wedding of the happy couple in Bay St. Louis, the ceremony being performed by the late lamented Father LeDuc, and as the impressive ceremony of the Catholic faith upon such occasions was performed by Father William Leech, of this city, and the kind and appropriate words of good wishes spoken by the priest to the aged couple recalled many pleasant memories of them and those around them.

In the evening a large number of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Capt. McDonald's sister, Mrs. A. I. DeMetz, to organize a real surprise for the Captain and his good wife, carrying tokens of remembrance, beautiful flowers and bountiful laden baskets of delicious refreshments. An orchestra was engaged for the evening, and the assemblage crowded the cottage of the host, where congratulations were extended and many toasts drank to the future happiness and prosperity of the couple who had lived and loved for a half century in the midst and esteem of legions of friends.

Capt. McDonald is a native of Pass Christian and Mrs. McDonald is a native of Bay St. Louis, who before her marriage was Miss Julia Taconi, member of a prominent family of that city.

They have four children, John T., Jr., Frank and Hugh McDonald and Mrs. Julia McDonald Everett, and eight grandchildren. All of the children were present except Frank who resides at Natchitoches, La.

Captain McDonald is a brick mason by trade, but is known to hundreds of persons throughout the south as Captain of the Queen of the Fleet, famous racing schooner, which he skipped to victory in a number of regattas along the Gulf. The schooner was destroyed in a hurricane some years ago. He served as Mayor and Alderman of Pass Christian for a number of terms and has been active in union labor organizations since quite a young man.

Through the untiring efforts and cooperation of numerous friends of the Boy Scout movement, the campaign for funds for the Bay St. Louis District of the New Orleans Area Council of Boy Scouts of America, came to a successful conclusion this week. Although the amount raised fell short a few dollars of the quota, the results were very gratifying.

The Boy Scout Executive Committee in charge of the campaign is grateful and appreciative of the interest and cooperation extended by the ladies and gentlemen who so actively assisted in the drive.

To those whom the solicitors failed to see, the request is made that they kindly send their subscriptions to Mr. Laurent Dickson at the Beach Drug Store and grateful acknowledgment will be made.

The Boy Scout movement is actively supported by President Roosevelt and many of the nation's greatest leaders, and it is a contributing factor in the improvement of conditions relating to juvenile delinquency. The two troops in Bay St. Louis should have the earnest support of the entire community.

NOTICE OF MEETING

Members and friends of St. Stanislaus Parents' Club will be interested in the announcement of a monthly meeting of the club, to be held at St. Stanislaus college on Sunday, November 18, at the usual hour. This meeting promises to be one of unusual interest, coming on the eve of the big benefit bazaar and members from New Orleans and Bay St. Louis, will be discussed.

WAVELAND HOLDS TOWN PRIMARY ELECTION AND SECOND FOR TUESDAY 13

Thomas J. Bourgeois Captures Mayoralty Nomination by Twenty Majority—John J. Bordages For Street Commissioner.

Tuesday of this week, November 6, Bay St. Louis' sister town, Waveland, held its municipal Democratic primary election, resulting the nomination of Former Mayor Thomas J. Bourgeois for first place on the ticket, that of the mayoralty. Others were nominated but it will be necessary to hold a second primary, to be held on Tuesday of next week, November 13.

As usual considerable interest had been manifested for some time. An election in Waveland, like all other towns and cities, is always a signal for active interest and campaign of the intense kind. Waveland, however seemingly carries more activity and interest than generally.

Ideal weather prevailed and a heavier voting than ever prevailed, a total of 304 votes cast. The utmost peace was noted and the day passed off without the slightest untoward incident.

The official figures follow, in the order of position and names as appeared on the official ballot:

For Mayor—Thomas J. Bourgeois, 162; W. A. Mapp, 142.

For Alderman First Ward—Dr. J. C. Buckley, unopposed.

Aldermen Second Ward—Walter L. Carver, 32; John Eckerle, 54.

Aldermen Third Ward—Jos. S. (Boy) Bourgeois, 74; William T. Soldine, 58.

For Aldermen Fourth Ward—O. S. Breland, 9; Harry J. Connell, 15; Milton Favre, 18; Clarence Hava, 25.

For Street Commissioner, John J. Bordages, 163; Edwin G. Rühr, 142.

Both Milton Favre and Clarence Hava will be in the second race for aldermen and Norvin H. Penrose and arold Zimmerman in the second race for marshal and tax-collector. Candidates wishing to withdraw will have until Thursday of this week, Nov. 8, 6 o'clock P. M.

Regular election for the nominees will take place during December and newly elected officials will be sworn in January 1, 1935, for a term of four years.

BOY SCOUT DRIVE ON THIS WEEK

DAD'S DAY SUNDAY AT STANISLAUS

Over Three Hundred Parake of Barbeque Lunch-eon—Visiting Team Captures Score

The snappy weather of last Sunday morning brought out a large attendance for the annual Homecoming and Dad's Day at Stanislaus. Several arrivals Saturday night and early Sunday morning started the buzz of representation was 1917 with four until, darkness again over-shadowed the campus.

Over three hundred and fifty signed the register in the College library. Among these were the Parents of the Students, Alumni and friends of the school. The oldest alumnus to sign the register was Mr. A. V. Allain of the Class 1899. The best represented class was that of 1934 with seven present, the next in point of representation was 1917 with four putting their "John Hancocks" upon the book.

At noon when the whistle sounded there were few stragglers. The crowd poured into the boys' dining room, which was beautifully decorated with the colors of the school. The lighting effect lent charm to the scene. Seven rows of tables greeted the visitors. The plates were heaped to satisfy the appetite of everyone. There were no speeches, in fact, there was little talking at all among the three hundred or more who were in the dining hall. Everyone seemed to be busy with the task at hand.

Shortly after lunch the crowd melted from the campus, only to appear at the football field. The stands filled long before game time with visitors from along the coast and from New Orleans.

The game between Commy High and St. Stanislaus ended in the score of 13 to 7 in favor of the visitors.

R. Terrell Perkins Under Surgeon's Knife For Appendicitis

While returning from Pascagoula late last Friday evening from attending a football game at Pascagoula, accompanied by his brother, H. Grady Perkins and a party of friends, R. Terrell Perkins was suddenly stricken with an acute pain and taken ill. He was rushed on to Bay St. Louis and examined by Dr. Wolfe who declared it acute appendicitis. He was rushed into New Orleans by auto, taken to Baptist Hospital, where Dr. Rato performed the operation before midnight. It was found the appendix was ready to burst and bore two spots of gangrene. Terrell is doing well and on the high road to recovery, the operation a success. He had no warning by feeling at any time of the attack that declared itself so suddenly and acutely. Many friends of the Perkins family will regret to learn of the ordeal but glad to know the outcome proved all to the good.

Drive Thanksgiving Week for the Orphans Of Natchez Diocese

The annual drive for funds for the orphans of the Catholic diocese of Natchez will be on in Bay St. Louis and adjacent territory Thanksgiving week, Rev. Father Gmelch, pastor church Our Lady of the Gulf, announces.

No one will hesitate to give for the orphans and, as usual, there is every reason to believe, the usual contributions, if not more, will be the order of the drive. It certainly will be blessed to give for bread for the orphans.

ANOTHER STRIKE?
Talk is being heard of a renewed textile strike. Labor leaders say that 113 complaints have been filed against 2500 textile plants in north. 225 plants of the 1500 in the South are said to be "in open resistance to the President's program."

ALL ABOUT SLEEP

A GERMAN investigator, Winterstein, writing about sleeping and dreaming, comes forth with the information, that depth of sleep is as important as length, and says that some people get more rest from a six hour deep sleep than others get out of ten hours shallower sleep.

So far, so good, but the investigator goes on. He says that under the spur of necessity the hours of sleep can be shortened without harm and that the man who knows he can sleep only four hours is more refreshed at the end of that period than if he thinks he can sleep eight hours and is awakened at the end of the fourth.

Sleepers, he says, are of two classes: evening sleepers who drop into oblivion soon after their heads hit the pillow and only recover consciousness toward morning and morning sleepers, who find it hard to sleep early in the evening but drop off soundly toward dawn. If the sleeping period is to be shortened the evening sleeper should chop it off in the morning and the morning sleeper should stay up later.

Now, we have chronicled what the investigator says he discovered but it is useless because every reader of The Echo has his or her own idea about sleep and knows the answers. Personally, we call attention to brother Winterstein because it sounds sensible to us and in line with our own experience. However, we won't fight anybody who is positive that it is nothing but a line of bunk.

ADULTS NEED EDUCATION

FOR some decades the people of Hancock county have been interested in education, liberally supporting the public school system. This has borne fruit and the average intelligence of our population has increased perceptibly.

However, let's not get the idea that education today is entirely a problem of the child. More and more thinking students of social problems are tending to believe that adult education is vital if the United States is to become a real democracy and solve its problems without some form of absolutism in government.

Too many of our children have been educated in mass programs, getting much of the raw materials of intelligence but missing most of the vital significance of life itself. As adults they are unripe for social cooperation and they must have a new chance, which can be given them only through adult education.

A WAY TO HONOR MOTHERS

IT ISN'T Mother's Day but we might as well write an editorial about the sixteen thousand and mothers who die every year in the United States in childbirth.

A large number could be saved if they had proper pre-natal care and adequate medical attention. Nearly half of those who die succumb from "childbed fever" and a fourth from toxemia. Both are preventable and should be prevented.

It's nice for men and women everywhere to send greetings and flowers to mother on Mother's Day but it might be a good idea to express our appreciation by doing something for the victims of motherhood. This would be a tribute to mothers, in general, and one in which every mother could join.

MANY RESPONSIBLE

FEW people will disagree with Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, when he says that wealth, built up by special favor from government, is wrong and that vast fortunes given individuals by laws and policies of government should be condemned.

The Senator is always outspoken. He blames the concentration of wealth in the hands of a few in this country upon "all parties." In part, he is right, but he has been in the Senate a long time and must bear part of the blame for the situation he attacks.

BORN WITHOUT PARENTS

A FEW days ago in a Virginia hospital a little boy came into the world, completely an orphan from the moment of his birth.

Several months before his father was drowned at a beach. His mother died but immediately afterwards a skillful doctor saved the baby's life by a Caesarian operation.

So, the little boy was literally born with both father and mother dead.

Good health is usually appreciated by people who are sick.

Advertise, brother, advertise; wiser merchants than you have done it for their own good.

Let's make Bay St. Louis such an attractive place in which to live that we won't have to hunt people to live here.

A prominent baseball player is sold to another club for $125,000, and we suppose the sum is not too much for him but civilization will be near at hand when a scientist brings that much on the open market.

HIS RELATIVES TESTIFY

"PRETTY BOY" Floyd, outstanding outlaw of Oklahoma, was recently shot to death by federal officers. He had lived a life of crime and death and he perished in the midst of his evil career.

After his death his mother, usually the last person to give up said, "he has reaped his reward," but added, "my boy was not bad at heart; he warned all boys to steer clear of crime." It was pathetic, however that he did not take his own advice.

The wife of this outlaw has been capitalizing on his criminal record, having made a vaudeville tour during the past summer telling audiences that "crime doesn't pay." When she found that her husband had been killed, without tears she said: "I have nothing to say. He's dead and I loved him." A brother, working in an Oklahoma oil field, expressed the opinion that, "I guess it's better as it is."

Wild youth who might be attracted to the spectacular exploits of the Oklahoma outlaw should reflect upon the testimony of three of his nearest relatives. Crime does not pay and produces sorrow for all connected with the criminal.

FINDING A NEIGHBOR

LET'S give a hand to the good people of Surrey, England, who have set an example that may be copied with profit to the entire world.

The town of Jarrow in the north of England, described as "the worst hit town in the country" by the depression, with three out of four men unemployed, is to be the scene of an experiment so unusual that it is news even across the Atlantic.

The people of Surrey, knowing of suffering in Jarrow, resolved to go to her aid. Financed by the people of Surrey a campaign is underway to get the people of Jarrow to decorate their own homes, thus giving the unemployed work. The second step is to provide part time work, to get families to raise their own food, train young people for employment elsewhere if necessary and then, finally, to find new industries for those that Jarrow has lost through the depression.

Picture an American city hunting industries for a rival city? However, let us note the exhibition of neighborliness that Surrey affords. Truly it is one of the bright spots in a world of worry.

SURPRISING PRAISE

IT IS something of a surprise to find any official in South America praising the Monroe doctrine but more amazing when the speaker happens to be an Argentinian officeholder.

Recently, at a meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce at Buenos Aires the Minister of the Interior, Leopoldo Melo, surprised his hearers by devoting much of his time to lauding the famous doctrine which his country formally repudiated when it joined the League of Nations.

And, why not? When European nations cast covetous eyes upon South America it took some courage for the United States of that day to attempt to protect this hemisphere from the political hegemonies of Europe. Whether the various peoples of South America recognize it or not the fact remains that their independence today is due, in part at least, to the vigor with which the Monroe doctrine has been upheld by the United States.

FRATERNITIES AT YALE

SEVERAL of the Greek-letter national fraternities at Yale University have turned in their charters and decided to disband.

The trouble lies in the fact that the University requires upper classmen to eat a certain number of meals in the college dormitory. Fraternity treasuries lost much of their income and the fraternity ties became weaker as members were thus forced to spread in their associations.

President Angell said: "The fraternity problem is the one outstanding problem left over from the old Yale. Its answer is not easy. . . . But the fraternity has in past years served as a very necessary part of Yale's social life and I am confident that when they have sufficient adjustments to the changed conditions. . . . of the college plan, these adjustments will satisfactorily take care of the enduring social interests of the undergraduates."

SOME DISHONOR IS CERTAIN

RIOTS have been reported from sections where public relief has been curtailed. This is to be expected and is one of the perils involved in the system now being used in caring for the unemployed.

There are millions of worthy individuals receiving forms of relief and they should suffer no deterioration from it. Others are taking relief and willing to take it the balance of their lives. They assume it is a right that belongs to them and are willing to contend in disorderly fashion.

Unscrupulous leaders will not be lacking when the government attempts to wean this segment from the public payroll. They will make speeches, they will have demands and they will foment strife. Good citizens, whether on relief or not, will have nothing to do with such agitators.

UNUSUAL GIFT

CORNELL University has been given a tract of six hundred and twenty acres of wild-wood nearby for use as a field laboratory.

The donor provided that the gift be accepted with the condition that man's hand should never dredge or dam its streams, quarry its rocks, disturb the birth, growth, death and decay of any living thing within its boundaries.

In other words, as far as this small tract goes, Cornell University will maintain an area in which nature will work unrestrictedly and naturally.

MERELY THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

SUBSISTENCE HOMESTEADS

THE administration has been developing for more than a year a plan announced a long time ago of moving the unemployed from wherever they are now to new settlements. The idea is to give each head of a family a new house with all the electrical gadgets and two to ten acres of land on which he can raise potatoes, other garden truck and perhaps chickens, a pig, and even a cow. This will not only provide him with food to keep him and his family from starving, but will provide him with electricity and presumably raise his standard of living and remove him from relief rolls. Then he is supposed to earn money by working at some job or other that is supposed to be provided from time to time. This part of the plan is vague, the only very definite part being the disposal of his money when he earns it.

The idea is very highly regarded as a solution to difficult problems. The unemployed are better off because, at the worst, they can always raise their own food. The government saves the heavy cost of supporting them. The family that has been living in some disreputable shack, or in an insanitary tenement, has a nice house with running water, bath and electric lights.

To pay for the scheme the government advances the money, and the homesteaders are supposed to pay it back over a long period of time at low interest rates, which makes the scheme self-liquidating. Amounts vary, but it is calculated that fifteen dollars a month for fifteen years will pay for a typical homestead. In addition the new developments are supposed to afford a new basis for taxation.

It is a wonderful idea to move millions of unemployed to nice clean healthful homes, all provided with electricity and bathtubs, where they can always raise enough to eat and be happy and picturesque. No objection has been raised about regimentation in this case, in fact this is probably the first time that regimentation and subsistence homesteads have been coupled in print.

In spite of all the propaganda for the plan, and also in spite of the critics with whom we generally disagree, we are very skeptical of the idea.

The very first objection is that even ten acres of land is not enough to support an American farmer. Much less than that is merely a garden to help out. A quarter section of one hundred sixty acres is a farm, in most parts of the country, and eighty acres is the smallest amount that can be handled with economy. Way back in colonial times fifty acres was an ordinary allotment for the poorest citizen. Five or ten acres is too small, not only for twentieth century machinery, but even for nineteenth century binders, etc. The homesteader will have to go back to the methods of the eighteenth century, or of the poor European peasant today, which will create a lot of work, but not much else.

The homesteader will not compete with the farmer, as has been pointed out, except in a very few cases where he specializes on fruit or garden truck for the market, because his land holding will be too small. Neither will he buy from the farmer, any more than he will buy from anybody else, because he can't, for lack of money. Remember that this beautiful homestead is going to be mortgaged up to the eaves, or above. That mortgage will be just 100 per cent of the cost. By the time the homesteader pays the installments on the mortgage, electric bills and taxes he will have very little money to buy anything for himself or his family. If he doesn't pay these bills then the government will have the choice of writing the losses off the books, or of kicking him out of his nice home, which is a very hard choice for any political government.

The homesteader is supposed to earn money to pay his bills, although it is not specified where the work is coming from. If he isn't working at a job now, putting him on a homestead isn't likely to increase his chances of getting a job very much. You can figure for yourself the chances that the unemployed will get more than enough paying jobs to meet the installments, taxes and other bills and still have some left for himself.

The whole system bears a striking resemblance to the English peasant-spinner and weaver set-up before the American and Industrial Revolutions. He and his family spun thread and wove cloth in their own cottages, and also had their own garden plot. It was a fairly happy life, for two centuries ago, much happier than that of the English factory workers after the introduction of machinery. If the installments due on the homesteads may be compared to the rent paid the feudal lords of the period, the homesteader will be in about the same position, except that he will not have the same assurance of a paid job. It is interesting to note the similarity in the burden of taxation, in which we plan to follow the English practice of the past.

The peasant paid taxes, but the lord was exempt. The homesteader is supposed to pay taxes, but the bondholder who collects the installments is exempt, for the bonds are tax-free. Our great need is to increase consumption so that it can balance even

Sapling Sayings

(Company 1484-GOO Kiln, Miss.)

Winter is here. We know because we're setting up the stoves this morning, and none too soon either.

Mr. Grobmeier, it is reported, is going to attend the classes in French before he takes another crew to a fire.

Money, money, who's got money! Toney Vaccaro won a cake as a prize for dancing and auctioned it off. Colly Mills told Register to bid it off. Register did and they had to borrow money to pay for it so now who owns the cake and who got stuck?

The fire detail got a break. It rained Friday night and Saturday morning so they didn't have much trouble with fires.

We peeped through a key hole and found out that Lt. Griffin has a new girl. Now, maybe, he will give us that calendar picture of the beautiful blonde.

Our Louisiana boys went home last week and one reported he had met our new commandant.

"Slim" Pitchfield and "Lightning" Roberts aren't so thick since "Lightning" started chasing the ladies.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! All you ladies that attend our dances every month. Our next is to be on the sixteenth of this month. We heard that our last dance was enjoyed by all. We know we enjoyed our share. Thanks to you, young ladies, and our dear friend and most willing worker, Mrs. Mamie Sylvester. We live in hope that this next dance will be even more successful.

We hear the wedding bells will soon be ringing for our long lost friend, and Leader, Lt. John H. Wienand. We hardly think it necessary though to mention the name of the bride to be, for you have all surely seen them together many times. We, Company 1484, wish you, Lt. Wienand the greatest of happiness.

They say Lt. Griffin spent $2.00 in a slot machine just to make eyes at a brunette.

TATOOED SOLDIERS

Suggesting that every American soldier in the future be tattooed as a means of identification, Lt. C. L. Whittle says that it was impossible to identify hundreds of men killed in the World War because identification tags were missing. He thinks a small number could be tattooed on each shoulder and each hip, thus insuring proper identification.

our present capacity to produce. The homestead scheme promises to increase production, but will definitely end any reasonable possibility of greater consumption by many millions of our fellow citizens. On the other hand it should be very romantic, picturesque and gratifying to our upper classes to develop a genuine American peasantry.

Relieves Headache Due To Constipation

"Theodore's Black-Drainage" has been used in my family for years," writes Mrs. J. A. Hightower, of Carthage, Texas. "I take it for sick headaches that come from constipation. When I feel a headache coming on, I take a dose of Black-Drainage. It acts and my head gets easy. Before I knew of Black-Drainage, I would suffer two or three days—but not any more since I have used Black-Drainage."

even bed-rock moves. But it shifts so gradually that it makes a safe, sure base for the largest structure. This bank, too, is moving with the times. But the movement is always gradual, along predetermined lines. Every succeeding move has merely served to further strengthen and consolidate its underlying stability. Each year finds this bank in even better position to serve its many clients and depositors.

Telephone Users Consider Quality and Dependability of Service as Paramount

Telephone service is such an intimate, personal service that anything adversely affecting it at once becomes a subject of individual interest to the millions of users. Because this service has such an important part in your every day social and business life, its quality and dependability are matters of serious concern to you. Service inferior to the high standard to which you are accustomed would not be acceptable, even at a lower price.

Recognizing this fact, the Bell System has always so shaped its policy as to insure the best and most dependable service that science and careful, far-sighted management could produce, at the lowest possible cost consistent with financial safety.

Due to this constructive policy, the telephone business has never earned speculative profits.

In the best years of the Southern Bell Telephone Company's history, and during a time when other businesses were earning large profits on soaring prices, the cost of the telephone service was kept at a level where the return on the investment was never more than 7%. In 1930, when the depression was first felt, these earnings declined rapidly, and in 1933 they shrank to about 4% on the investment.

It is obvious that further reductions of such already inadequate earnings would seriously endanger the financial soundness of the business, and be reflected in the quality and dependability of the service.

With The Movies And Film Folks.

ACCORDING to announcements from England, a picture, based on the career of King George V of England, will be made by London Films, with Winston Churchill, noted British statesman, who recently entered the cinema field, writing the script. The picture will depict some of the outstanding events in England's history during the past twenty-five years, including the emancipation of women, the developments in aviation, the progress in transportation, the unification of the empire and the crisis of the World War. Alexander Korda will direct the production.

Claude Rains, unseen star of "Invisible Man," will have the chief role in "The Mystery of Edwin Drood." Mr. Rains has made quite a name for himself by his excellent work in "Crime Without Passion" and in "The Man Who Reclaimed His Head."

Production is about to begin on the George White "Scandals," on the Fox lot. However, it is said that the film will be carefully supervised with special attention being given to keeping down costs and cutting out some objectionable features.

In the cast of the new Will Rogers' picture, "The Country Club," is Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, Frank Churchill, Louise Dresser, Frank Meeton, Stepin Fetchit and Mickey Rooney.

Warner Brothers were so pleased with Rudy Vallee's work in "Sweet Music" that they signed him to make three additional films.

Esther Ralston is to provide the feminine interest opposite Willard Mack in Columbia's "Call to Arms."

Alice Brady has joined the cast of First National's "Gold Diggers of 1935."

Joan Crawford and William Powell will be together in a picture for MGM, now being called "Reckless."

WEST GOES SOUTH- ERN; NEW ORLEANS LOCALE FOR FILM

Surrounded by the luxury of the days of Louis XV, the sparkle of 8000 crystals, hundreds of nodding white ostrich plumes, the richness of silk upholstered lounges and chairs, the gold and old rose color scheme of royalty, forty rare paintings and the warmth of a modified New Orleans motif, Mae West, Hollywood's reigning film queen, rec'd much of the action which comes to the screen in her new stirring picture, "Belle of the Nineties," coming on the 11, 12 and 13th of November to the A. & G. Theatre.

This amazing music-hall, gambling resort set filled the entire interior of one of the largest sound stages at Paramount's Hollywood studios.

A bit of French, transplanted in New Orleans, with a Hollywood touch, that combines both periods, is the fitting background for the sparkling blonde charmer.

Hans Dreier, Paramount art director, and Bernard Herzbrun designed the set. Herzbrun, a former New York architect, member of the American Institute of Architecture, who has studied in Paris, was placed by Dreier in direct charge of the task—as well as that of designing the new New Orleans settings for "Belle of the Nineties."

"New Orleans in the Nineties" reflected the influence of French architecture more than any other large American city," Herzbrun pointed out. "There were many lavish houses in New Orleans of the Nineties period which were done in modified Louis XV. I decided to combine this attractive period with the New Orleans influence."

Roger Pryor, John Mack Brown and John Miljan are the three important men in her life in this film, which was directed by Leo McCarey. Duke Ellington and his band have a featured spot.

LESS RELIEF?
Harry Hopkins, Relief Administrator, says that need for direct relief will be substantially less this winter than last.

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF HANCOCK COUNTY
For the past two years it has been necessary for the Board of Supervisors, and the State Tax Commission, to hold the assessment rolls in order to make special adjustments, beyond the time fixed by law for the assessment rolls to be placed in the hands of the Tax Collector of Hancock County. Therefore, the Tax Collector was unable to issue tax receipts to those desiring to pay their tax early in the year. In 1932 the assessment rolls were placed in the hands of the Tax Collector about the first of December; and in 1933, the assessment rolls were placed in our hands on December 10th, when in reality they should have been placed in our hands not later than the 15th of October. There is no one to blame for this action because the Board of Supervisors were acting in good faith and were trying to reach a fair equalization of taxes; but it did necessitate the employment of additional help in the Tax Collector's office and caused a number of tax payers to have to wait their turn to settle their taxes. Had these books been placed in our hands at the time provided for by law for the placement of the assessment rolls, tax receipts could have been prepared and the working force in the Tax Collector's office could have served many more people in a given time. Some people do not understand why they were forced to wait and for that reason I am trying to make this clear in their minds.

We are now in a position or will be by the first day of December to wait upon all those desiring to pay their taxes at that time. We hope to have all the tax receipts prepared so we will have nothing to do but receipt the tax payer and collect the amount of his taxes. We want to take this opportunity of thanking the Board of Supervisors, the Chancery Clerk and the State Tax Commission for their co-operation in trying to place in our hands the assessment rolls on time, and in order that we may not be forced to hire additional help and give you better service, than we have heretofore.

Another matter that we wish to call to your attention and this will apply chiefly to those who are interested in their own political races, that under the law, in order to be qualified to vote in a primary election your poll tax for the past two years must be paid on or before the first day of February of the year in which you vote, in other words if you wish to vote in the primary election in August 1935 you must have two years poll taxes paid on or before the first day of February next year. It is our desire and I have instructed my deputies, Mr. Kergosien and Mr. Madison, who will have charge of the collection of all taxes, that unless the poll tax, together with all damages are paid on or before the first day of February that they must date tax receipts on the date on which the taxes are paid. I shall prepare a certified statement of all those who have paid their poll tax on or before the 1st day of February, 1935, keeping a copy in my office and placing a copy in the hands of the Election Commission.

Trusting that all interested candidates and all poll tax payers will understand that we have no reasons for doing this except that it is to prove charge of collecting the taxes may not afterwards be criticized. This is fair to all and unfair to none. Let's pay our taxes on time.

Respectfully submitted,
Tax Collector.

On their return they will be "at home" to friends at the family estate at DeLisle after the middle of the month.

This is one of the interesting events of the week, both contracting parties and families well known over several States, the Crawford family originally residents of Louisville, Ky., where they are highly connected, Mr. Crawford a divisional executive for the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Co., while Mr. Peranich, in business, is widely known in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy, possessed of talent, accomplished and is a favorite with all who know her.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MRS. CHAS. HILLEN AT FORMER HOME.

Mrs. Charles Hillen former resident of Bay St. Louis, but now of New Orleans, since the demise of her husband, celebrated her 72nd birthday at the old home in State Street, October 28th.

Mrs. Hillen was given a surprise party by her niece, Mrs. Geo. Burgier of New Orleans with whom she now lives.

Mrs. Burgier decorated her aunt's dining room with gold and white crepe paper, ferns and yellow roses and Marigolds. The effect was lovely—the table was covered with a gold and white frilled paper cloth and from each corner fern and yellow roses were caught to a large white bell that hung over the center of the table.

The large cake, in the shape of a seven and a two was placed on a stand in the center of the table.

Mrs. Hillen received many gifts and was very happy to see many of her old friends, who were invited to come to see her. Mrs. Geo. Burgier had as her guest from New Orleans more than thirty nieces, grand nieces, nephews and one sister of Mrs. Hillen's and a few very close friends.

It was indeed a wonderful surprise. Ice cream and cake were served and candy was also served.

Those that formed the party from New Orleans are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. George Burgier and daughters, Mrs. Gilbert Green and daughter and son, Mrs. Helen Waringer and daughters, Louise and Sophie, Mrs. John Fischer and daughters, Mrs. S. M. Troxler and children, Miss Stella Steit, Miss Agnes Andre, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schockai and son.

ALL HALLOWE'EN DANCE AT S. S. C. ESPECIALLY ENJOYED.

St. Stanislaus All Hallowe'en dance on Hallowe'en night, the upper classmen of St. Stanislaus entertained their friends at one of the most successful dances held in the college gym. The dance lasted until midnight with Louis Carron's well-known orchestra playing all the latest dance music, from the Dream Waltz to Happy Returns. The gym was appropriately decorated in orange and black, witches and cats intermingled with the streamers; the windows with palm-trees and Spanish moss. Refreshments consisting of punch and cakes in the Hallowe'en colors were served by the chaperones, all members of the Parents' Club. The soft lights and beautiful gowns made a picture long to be remembered by the boys and we hear that they are now anxiously awaiting the next dance.

ONE OF MANY NEW BOOKS AT THE BAY ST. LOUIS LIBRARY.

"The German Family," by L. C. N. Stone. Bobbs Merit.

Here is an inside story of what Hitler has been doing to the Jews in Germany. For from being mere propaganda, however, this is a corking good novel. It is the story of two families, German and English, who intermarried in post-war days and it embraces: Germany under English occupation; a pleasant and social interlude; during which emotional interests develop; then, the Hitler regime, for alas, this genial and gifted German family is likewise Jewish. Commences the age-old persecution of the wandering tribes of Israel.

Sinister events give the story a background of heightened emotional interest such as one finds in Greek tragedy, although it is interspersed with very delightful humor. The characters have not the neuroses so popular in current literature. There is no introspection. They really have something to worry about!

book that there is a certain to errance toward "Free-love" in Germany, and wonders whether or not this is a product of the war, as in the case of Russia.

Books are actually pouring into the Libraby by hundreds, these days. Mrs. John N. Stewart has given another hundred and more; while Brother Fabian of the College has given about a hundred, school books and classics.

PASS GARDEN CLUB

ENTERTAINED BY MRS. THORNHILL BROOME.

Pass Christian Garden Club, one of the outstanding and active of such organizations along the Coast's floral strand of many miles, to which a number of Bay St. Louis members are active registered, was entertained on Friday of last week at the winter home of Mrs. Thornhill Broome, recently returned from her summer season's stay at Cape Cod.

It was the regular monthly meeting and 3 o'clock the time. A feature was that each and every member, by previous request, brought copies or photos from scenes of their own individual gardens and in the lot it was noted there were quite a number of Bay St. Louis gardens. This material is to be used for an official club scrap book, containing various informative data, from the origin of the club down to the present. This feature is in charge of Mrs. (Dr.) Rafferty, other members actively co-operating. The completion of this scrap book, said to be an innovation, is anxiously looked for.

Mrs. Broome was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Luther H. Barksdale, Mrs. Matthes, Miss Sutter and others. The parlors and dining room were decorated with large pink carnations, profusely set in tasteful and effective advantage.

FOOTBALL GAME ATTRACTS MANY TO BAY ST. LOUIS.

It would be difficult to accurately estimate how many visitors were attracted to Bay St. Louis last Sunday by the Stanislaus and Commercial High football game on the local campus, which was also the occasion for the annual Dad's Day and Homecoming Day. The Beach Boulevard and business section presented an animated appearance during the morning and forenoon hours, and not to be mercenary, but local business channels felt the welcome result of patronage.

Bay St. Louis is exceedingly popular with the many who are wont to come here on occasion and we owe a vote of thanks, possibly one of gratitude to the college responsible for many holidays that attract many to our shores. Last Sunday's attendance was one, if not the largest crowds in attendance yet to any football game this season on the college campus.

ANNOUNCING WEDDING OF PROMINENT YOUNG PEOPLE WELL KNOWN.

Cards were received by friends in Bay St. Louis this week carrying the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Godchaux of the marriage of their daughter, Justine, to Mr. Richard McCarthy, Jr., both of New Orleans and well known both in Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian, the Godchaux home located at the Pass. The happy event was one of the more socially prominent events of the week in New Orleans.
